

UPCOMING IN WORSHIP

Sunday, February 8th. Pastor Jack continues our Attitude is Your Paint Brush series with The Attitude of Humility. Worship is in person or online at Live.WaterfordCUMC.org

Dear Friends in Christ,

Kate Bowler is a Canadian author, professor, award-winning podcast host, and associate professor of American religious history at Duke Divinity School. She is a four-time New York Times bestselling author, known for her memoir Everything Happens for a Reason: And Other Lies I've Loved, which details her experience with stage IV cancer at age 35.

Dr. Bowler writes, "Too often there is neither meaning nor order nor justice in that chunk of cancerous tissue, that patch of ice, or piece of faulty wiring. Everything can just ... happen."

"Lent is the right time to sit with these darker truths. This is the time to reflect on our limitations and to remind ourselves that none of us is immune to the universe. We are all one errant organ, limb, or joint away from losing that sense of freedom in our own bodies, and even the fittest of us inhabits a faulty body, designed to wear out and perish. From dust we were made."

"Look, this is grim stuff. I get it. But this is the necessary antidote to the poison of our culture's myth of perfectibility. ... And this fact should make us kinder to each other. As temporary creatures made of the same perishable material, we should see in each other fellow pilgrims headed in the same direction, worthy of our concern, people with whom we should be more patient, slower to anger, quicker to help."

(From "Lent Is a Season of Stubborn Hope," RedLetterChristians.org, April 7, 2019.)

I have already shared that our Lenten Message Series is titled Christ: Challenged! Thinking of the title from Kate Bowler's memoir, Everything Happens for a Reason: And Other Lies I've Loved, I thought about Jesus' life and death and while it is obvious that Jesus had enemies, it is not something we proclaim. It would be a lie to say that everyone loved Jesus and that he really didn't have enemies.

Here's my question: Did Jesus believe he had enemies? In Luke's lesser-known Parable of the Minas, Jesus refers to "these enemies of mine," but those are the words of the nobleman in the parable. Jesus, in his Sermon on the Mount, tells us, "love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you." (Matthew 5:44) I have to believe that Jesus knew he had enemies, but he also demonstrated love, compassion, and forgiveness toward those who opposed him, challenged him and ultimately were responsible for his death on the cross.

As Kate Bowler wrote, "This is grim stuff." It is my hope that we will have an experience during Lent that will lead us to know the truth about those who opposed Jesus and how their opposition to Jesus shaped his message, ministry, and mission. I hope you will join me in exploring Christ: Challenged. I hope to see you in church!

Because of Christ,

Pastor Jack
